Dear PhD candidate,

We are happy to offer a third cycle course in Modern sociological theory. The course is a result of a collaboration between the sociology departments at Copenhagen University and Lund University. The course may be related to two other courses which are the outcome of this cooperation and which also includes the sociology department at Gothenburg University: Classical sociological theory and Contemporary sociological theory.

Attached please find two documents:
– Syllabus
– Course programme (schedule and readings)

The syllabus has been approved by the board of the Department of Sociology, Lund University, as of April 2015. The course programme is preliminary – there may be (smaller) changes for example in the readings.

The course offers an extensive overview of currents in Sociological theory from ca 1945 to ca 2000. It also offers great opportunities for participants to develop their own theoretical interests.

We will be happy to answer any question, please contact us.

We ask you to submit your application to one of the addresses below no later than September 30, 2018. The number of participants is limited to around 15.

Carl-Göran Heidegren Bo Isenberg

carl-goran.heidegren@soc.lu.se
bo.isenberg@soc.lu.se