WELCOME to our Master's Programme in Cultural Criminology!

Here you will find all the information you need to get started with your studies at the Department of Sociology at Lund University

The first course on the programme is CCRN01: Theories, Perspectives and Concepts of Cultural Criminology which starts 31 August with a mandatory introductory meeting. See further down in this letter for more specific information about the course, including how to register, where to find your schedule, as well as information regarding the present pandemic-situation.

The main web page for our department is https://www.soc.lu.se/en/

The programme is presented in detail here: https://www.lunduniversity.lu.se/lubas/i-uoh-lu-SACCR

Our main lecturers during the first semester are Erik Hannerz and Sébastien Tutenges, whose presentations can be found via the links below. For more specific information about which lecturers will be involved in your programme, please see the schedule for each specific course within the programme. Lecturers from other subjects may be involved depending on your choices for the elective courses within the programme.

Sébastien Tutenges: https://www.soc.lu.se/en//sebastien-tutenges

CCRN01 Theories, Perspectives and Concepts of Cultural Criminology, 15 credits

Course period: 31 August – 30 October 2020

Introductory meeting – attendance is mandatory:

Time and place: 31 August. Please note that this may change due to restrictions concerning the number of students per lecture hall. We advise you to keep an eye on the department’s homepage as well as on Time Edit (link further down) for your schedule.

Please note: As of today we are not 100% sure how much of the education will be held here on the campus as opposed to online, due to the ongoing pandemic.
Parts of the programme will have actual lectures, but you must keep an eye on the schedule for the first course of the programme, as well as the homepages of the university and our own department in order to know where to start and when.

The university publishes current Corona-related information here: https://www.lunduniversity.lu.se/about/the-universitys-handling-of-the-coronavirus

As soon as all the schedules for the autumn semester are done, you can search for each course here: https://cloud.timeedit.net/lu/web/s1/

Information about where to find your way to class, see here.

Course registration and the Student Portal

You do your self-registration on the course electronically on our Student Portal www.student.lu.se with your student ID.

The course is open for registration 24 August – 30 August.

Please see instructions on how to register for the course here.

To register for the course you have to have an active student account. To activate your student account, follow this link: https://passport.lu.se. (Current students already have a student account.)

If you need help with the registration, please send an e-mail to info@soc.lu.se and ask for help within time as above, otherwise you may lose your place and it may be offered to another student.

Entry requirements, please look at the syllabus.

Student account support: servicedesk@lu.se

Cancellation

If you are registered on the course and you within three weeks decide not to follow the course, you can go back to the Student Portal and report it, or send an e-mail to info@soc.lu.se.

Information about the programme and the first course

Information about the programme, such as structure and overview of the programme can be found here.

Information about the course CCRN01 such as syllabus, schedule and web platform Canvas etc. can be found here.
